

Thanks, Mom!

A few fun facts as to why moms are the greatest!

- Moms take 2 minutes 5 seconds to change a diaper – the equivalent of about three 40-hour work weeks each year.
- Of adults with two living parents, 61 percent have the most contact with their mothers; only about 18 percent talk to their fathers more.
- Americans spend about $15 billion on gifts for Mother's Day – second only to Christmas in holiday spending.
- Mother's Day is celebrated in 50 countries in various ways and on different dates. In the former Yugoslavia, mothers were tied up by their children until she paid them with treats for her freedom!
- Lina Medina is the youngest mother on record. She was just five years and seven months old in 1939. The oldest mother is Rajo Devi Lohan from India who gave birth at age 70 in 2008.
- Scientists believe pregnancy causes permanent brain alterations in mothers similar to the way teenage hormones contribute to adolescent brain development.
- August is usually the most common birth month and Tuesdays the most common birth day.
- Salary.com estimates a stay-at-home mom would make about $122,000 if she were compensated for all the various jobs performed – from van driver and house cleaner to CEO and psychologist.
- Author J.K. Rowling of Harry Potter fame is the first single mom who also is a billionaire.

Thanks, Mom!

A few fun facts as to why moms are the greatest!

- Moms take 2 minutes 5 seconds to change a diaper – the equivalent of about three 40-hour work weeks each year.
- Of adults with two living parents, 61 percent have the most contact with their mothers; only about 18 percent talk to their fathers more.
- Americans spend about $15 billion on gifts for Mother's Day – second only to Christmas in holiday spending.
- Mother's Day is celebrated in 50 countries in various ways and on different dates. In the former Yugoslavia, mothers were tied up by their children until she paid them with treats for her freedom!
- Lina Medina is the youngest mother on record. She was just five years and seven months old in 1939. The oldest mother is Rajo Devi Lohan from India who gave birth at age 70 in 2008.
- Scientists believe pregnancy causes permanent brain alterations in mothers similar to the way teenage hormones contribute to adolescent brain development.
- August is usually the most common birth month and Tuesdays the most common birth day.
- Salary.com estimates a stay-at-home mom would make about $122,000 if she were compensated for all the various jobs performed – from van driver and house cleaner to CEO and psychologist.
- Author J.K. Rowling of Harry Potter fame is the first single mom who also is a billionaire.